When it comes to your manufacturing needs...
CREATIVITY + QUALITY = CIMQUEST

Cutting-Edge Products & Services

Customization is the key to customer service that exceeds expectations. At Cimquest we customize our products and services to fit your specific operational requirements. We evaluate your company's strengths and identify opportunities for improvement to bring you forward those products that best fit your needs. Our extensive implementation process entails planning, design and development of the appropriate products and systems and our ongoing support ensures continued success and value into the future. We are passionate about what we do and understand that our success is reflected in yours.

ENGINEERING SERVICES
Cimquest expert staff provide comprehensive engineering design, programming, 3D printing, learning and reverse engineering services.

Cutting-Edge Support

Cimquest operates four client support offices as cutting-edge as the products we sell. We offer comprehensive training for all Mastercam products in our training facilities, all client locations or online, customized to your learning and scheduling needs. Our instructors possess real-world manufacturing experience in a variety of sectors - from job shops to the aerospace industry - and are fully certified in current product features and techniques. Courses range from Essential to Advanced and our intensive classes maintain an effective instructor-student balance with no more than eight attendees per class.

In addition, Cimquest operates the largest Additive Manufacturing Technology Lab in the East Coast at our Advanced Manufacturing Center in Shrewsbury, New Jersey, featuring demonstrations of and training on a diverse line of 3D printers.

Cimquest has been here for our customers since 1990 and will continue to be your go-to resource for support for the next quarter-century - and beyond.
